NEED ONLY ONE MORE JUROR

BAYWOOD PANEL IS LIKELY TO BE FILLED TO-DAY.

Taking of Evidence Against Alleged Slayer of Steunenberg Will Probably Begin on Monday-A Stammerer and a Sect Who Knows Burns Furnish Amusement.

Boise, May 31.-It looked this morning as if there was a good chance of completing the Haywood jury before night, but the job had not been finished when court adjourned this afternoon.

It has advanced very nearly to completion, however, and it seems certain that the box will be filled to-morrow. The taking of testimony will not be begun until

The prosecution has exhausted all of its ten peremptory challenges. It used up last one this afternoon when it challenged Nelson Freeland the moment he was passed by both sides.

The defence still has one challenge left. It will use it the moment the place left vacant by the departure of Freeland is filled. That will leave only one place in the jury box to fill unless there are further departures because of ill health or on other statutory grounds.

The new odd number for luck panel of sixty-one talesmen showed up in court as soon as things got going this morning. There was the usual flock who had what they thought might be legal excuses to offer for not serving, but Judge Wood gobbled hem up so fast that only five went free. They got James A. Robertson up for the examination first. Jamie is a Scot of 71 years, born in Scotland and an ex-builder and farmer who used to take Gov. Steunen berg and his family to board in Boise. He has been a Republican since Gen. Grant was first elected. He did not think his acquaintance with Steunenberg would bias him in the least. Senator Borah agreed with him and passed him up.

Then Mr. Richardson took Jamie in hand. He wanted to know where he was born. "I was born," said Jamie, after carefully clearing his throat, "in that grand leetle country where they raise honest men and bonnie

The cyclones drove him thence and Jamie came to Idaho. Hoodoos don't work here apparently, for Jamie has been here now for sixteen years. After they took Jamie the defence let Herman Cox depart with their blessings.

Several talesmen were disqualified, and then they came to H. F. Mossecar, who has taken all the stuttering cures without avail. "Ever talk this case over with your neighbors much?" asked Lawyer Hawley. V-v-v-v-v-very l-l-l-l-little," said Mr.

Very well, we challenge this juror," said

Borah, "We object," said Darrow. well," said Borah, "then we withdraw our challenge."

"The Court will sustain any challenge of this juror regardless of any objection," said Judge Wood. That let Tourtelle out. The afternoon doings discovered another talesman, who said he would not place any reliance on any testimony by Harry Orchard. He was J. C. Baldwin, an ancient of Boise. He was promptly disqualified. The defence was pleased when they learned that Nelson, whom the prosecution had passed, had subscribed real money (25 cents a year) for the Appeal to Reason, and they took him on. Freeland lasted about five minutes and was then thrown out on the prosecution's last peremptory

When A. Sifers showed up the Court said that this talesman stated that he had a physical disqualification and suggested that counsel examine him on that point. "What age are you?" asked Senator said Mr. Sifers Borah. "Deafness," promptly. They let him go.

When Alfred Eoff took the chair left vacant by Sifers it lacked three minutes to adjournment time. Mr. Eoff is a clos friend of Senator Borah and one of the most interesting characters in the Northwest. He was for years paymaster for the Wells Fargo Express Company, and the job he had was one of the most dangerous that can be held in a new country.

"Does your Honor intend to complete the examination of this talesman this afternoon?" asked the Senator.

"Court will adjourn at the usual time, said Judge Wood.

"It is scarcely worth while to begin the inquiry to-day then," responded the Senator and it was so ordered. Mr. Eoff was accordingly locked up for the night with the other eleven men in the jury box, vastly to the amusement of the awyers and the friends and neighbors

GET A WAGONFUL OF LOOT. THE RINGS' PRENUPTIAL PLAN

Burgiars Take Jewelry, Cut Glass, Silverware and Curies From a Breeklyn Home.

Although a private watchman patrols the block, burglars forced an enfrance into the private residence of Arthur Classon at 341 Jefferson avenue, Brooklyn, early yesterday morning and got away with jewelry, out glass and silverware valued at several hundred dollars and ourios and relies of inestimable value, including a photograph of President Roosevelt with his signature appended. The block is open at the Tompkins avenue end except for a low fence and Mr. Classon's house is two doors from the corher, but a stable back of the corner house cuts of all view from the avenue. Working in the shadow of this stable the burglars pried the window grating of the kitchen from the stone sill, after which they opened the kitchen door and passed out enough door and passed out enough goods to fill a wagon.

On leaving they locked the kitchen door from the outside and the butler had to pry it open when he came down in the morning. It is thought that the entrance of Mr. Classon's eldest son frightened them away and saved a number of valuable paintings that had been torn from the walls and packed for removal.

When the police of the Gates avenue precinct inspected the house the two lower floors looked as though they had been in the track of a small tornado.

TWO ARRESTS FOR ONE AUTO. H. Z. Smith's Car Gets Both Driver and Owner Into Trouble.

Harold Z. Smith, a broker who lives at the Hotel Marie Antoniette, was arrested by Policeman Devanney last night at 180th street and Broadway, charged with speeding his automobile at the rate of 22 miles an hour. In the machine with him were his wife and chauffeur and all were taken to the West 152d street police station. The lieutenant asked for the usual bail of $100.

"That's rather unfortunate," said Mr. "The fact is, lieutenant, that I just gave bail for my chauffeur up in High Bridge and I haven't any money left. I ran the machine myself after his arrest t show him that it could be run within the legal speed limit."

After a whispered conversation with his wife she produced a diamond pin valued at $750, which the lieutenant accepted as

Just as Mr. Smith left the station house Policeman McGrath came in with Joseph Nille, driver for Samuel Untermyer. He was charged with driving at the rate of 25 miles an hour. Mr. Untermyer's son was in the car and told the lieutenant that the car was not a vesseling the speed limit the car was not exceeding the speed limit and that the arrest was an outrage. The lieutenant refused to listen to him and told him to tell his story to the Magistrate in the Harlem police court this morning. Nille put up $100 cash bail.

Former Nebraska Attorney-General Thinks Bryan Would Rather Tackle Roosevelt.

TOPEKA, Kan., May 31 .- "It is my guess that if Taft is nominated for the Presidency Bryan will refuse to be a candidate, while if Roosevelt is a candidate Bryan will This is the prediction made to-day by former Attorney-General L. W. Colby of Nebraska.

"Bryan," said Gen. Colby, who is a stal-"Bryan," said Gen. Colby, who is a stal-wart Republican, "is very dear to the people of Nebraska. They respect him and have confidence in him. He has been growing in the estimation of his neighbors and now it is recognized that he possesses all the good qualities of Roosevelt, with more diplomacy and tact. However, I do not believe that Bryan can beat Taft, and I think that Bryan himself knows this and will not consent to run against him. will not consent to run against him.

That is my prophecy.

"The political conditions in Nebraska are considerably mixed, but I think that when things line up Nebraska will be for Taft for the Republican nomination for President. There is a good deal of Foraker sentiment there, however."

MILLS AND WIFE COMPROMISE.

Divorce Will Not Be Tried-Wife Gets Child and Big Sum of Money.

T May 31 -The divorce suit started last fall against Commodore Nerrill B. Mills, a millionaire, who is a member of the Chicago and many other yacht clubs, will never come to trial, as Commodore Mills and his wife have reached a settlement out of court. Mrs. Mills gets the custody of Cynthic, the little daughter, whose control was the chief source of the dispute and for whom Mills offered his wife $1,000,000. Mrs. Mills also gets a considerable sum of money, the exact amount is not given out. A small fortune has been spent by Mills and his wife gathering evidence to produce when the case should come to trial.

WIFE'S SUIT TO SET ASIDE A $50,000 DEED.

Her Husband, 20 Years Her Junior, Was to Have Certain Property If He Married Her-She Says They Never Lived Together and He "Ought to Be Shot."

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 31,-Mrs. Naomi Duncombe Ring of Mount Vernon, who is said to have $2,000,000, at the trial her husband, Patrick J. Ring, from whom she is now estranged, to set aside a deed for $50,000 worth of property, including the Mount Vernon Opera House, testified that she had never intended to give him a deed for all the property, but that it was her purpose only to let him have a joint interest in the opera house.

Mrs. Ring was cross-examined by Lawyer William L. Sayder, representing Mr. Ring. and she proved to be a wily witness. She declared that Mr. Ring had never put any money in the opera house and that every cent spent in its construction came out of her pocket.

The deed of the property, which gives to Mr. Ring the opera house and two houses and a store, sets forth an ante-nuptial agreement to the effect that "Whereas it is intended and agreed by and between the said parties that they shall within three months from the date of the execution become husband and wife and in consideration of said marriage it has been mutually agreed that the lands shall be conveyed to the party of the second part, P. J. Ring.

Mr. Ring, who is about 45 years old, while his wife is twenty years his senior, said the reason that he married Mrs. Ring was because she begged him to do so and that she was willing to deed the opera house property to him without any stipulations if he would become her husband.

"After the deed was drawn," said Lawyer Snyder, "didn't you marry Mr. Ring?"

"The marriage ceremony was performed, but we never lived together for an hour, and Mr. Ring knows it."

"Didn't Mr. Ring tell you that you had promised to make a will giving him one-half of your property if he married you?"

"No."

Now didn't you like Mr. Ring very

"No, I didn't," snapped Mrs. Ring.
While answering questions Mrs. Ring suddenly burst forth: "Mr. Ring ought to be shot for lots of things he did. He to be shot for lots of things he did. He wouldn't let me go near the opera house while it was being constructed. I have been swindled from beginning to end."

Mrs. Gastrom testified that soon before the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Ring she heard Mr. Ring say that she would lose everything unless she signed the papers, that she "wouldn't have a shirt on her back" "would have to go back to the wash

Mr. Ring called in his own behalf a number of witnesses to prove that at the time she married him Mrs. Ring was in good health and that she had told some people she in-tended to marry Mr. Ring. The deed for and that she had told some people she in-tended to marry Mr. Ring. The deed for the property involved in the suit, which was signed by both Mr. and Mrs. Ring, also was put in evidence. times. Justice Tompkins said if any testimony was offered to contradict her evidence about three raids she conducted on poolrooms and in which places she had seen Mrs. Ring that he would not consider her evidence at all.

John C. Schleicher during his testimony said he heard Mrs. Ring say she was as young as any young lady in Mount Vernon. When spoken to about marrying Mr. Ring she said she would surprise them all.

After hearing the evidence and the denial of Mr. Ring to all his wife's charges Justice Tompkins directed that briefs be sub-

R. R. MEN ON FEDERAL CONTROL. Some Say Railway Tickets Will Be Sold Like

CHICAGO, May 31.-Universal control of the railroads of the United States by the Federal Government was predicted to-day by several railroad men and railroad attorneys. Almost without exception railroad attorneys agreed with the views presented by President Roosevelt in his Decoration Day speech at Indianapolis.

One big railroad man who is connected with several lines said:

The time is not far distant when every railroad of the country will be under the control of the United States. It will not be many years before a railroad ticket will be purchased like a two cent stamp. A universal rate will be open to every one. No special rate, pass or rebate will be granted and every railroad will be working on a fair and equal basis that will mean good return for eyery investor interested.

Railroad officials say that it is right that railroads extending through many States should be under the direction of the Government instead of under State control. Edward T. Glennon, head of the law firm of Glennon, Cary, Walker & Howe, representing the Lake Shore, New York Central, Nickel Plate and Big Four railroads, declared that complete Federal control would be the ultimate result of the agitation of the present day.

"The time will come when a general rate will be decided upon by the Government, and that rate will be the only one upon which railroad tickets will be sold."

FOR CONTROL OF RAILROADS.

Governor of Pennsylvania Signs Commission, Anti-Rebate and Other Bills. HARRISBURG, Pa., May 31.-Gov. Stuart this morning signed the Dunsmore bill creating a State railroad commission in Pennsylvania. There are to be three commissioners at $8,000 a year each, who, with a secretary, an attorney and a marshal, are to investigate all complaints, discriminations, &c., and make recommendations to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, who in turn is to instruct the Attorney-General to enter suit. The commission is empowered to take testimony and to examine all books, leases, contracts, &c.

The Governor also signed bills prohibiting rebates, discrimination in rates, consolidation of parallel lines and the operation of mines or manufactories by railroad corporations directly or indirectly. ations directly or indirectly.

All these measures were promised in the Republican platform last November, and Gov. Stuart was elected on the pledge that the promises would be kept. He has already signed bills for two cent fare and giving electric railways the right to carry freight, which were also promised.

NO DOCK STRIKE COMPROMISE.

Thirty-fi e Steamship Lines Won't Yield at Inch-strikebreakers Beaten. The transatlantic steamship companies put an end yesterday to ail hope of a compromise with the longshoremen who are on strike by issuing the following brief statement: "On Wednesday, May 20, five former longshoremen, employees of the White Star Line called upon the officials of the International Mercantile Marine Company, when they were definitely informed that the company would not accept conciliation or compromise but that if any of their old employees wished to return to work at the wages in force prior the strike such of them as could now be used would be reemployed.

It is known that the statement applies with equal force to all the thirty-five lines which have decided to fight the demands of the strikers. Before the statement was issued Col. Michael J. Reagan, industria mediator of the Department of Labor had a conference with Strike Leader Con-nors and visited a number of the heads of the lines involved in the strike. Among those were the Wilson Line Phonix Line those were the Wilson Line, Phœnix Line Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, French Line and International Mercantile Marine Company. Though Col. Reagan would not talk on the subject it is believed that some kind of a compromise was suggested.
"My business is to try and bring about peace if possible," he said. "As to what took place between me and the representatives of either side I am not at liberty to talk."

General Agent Fouguet of the French Line said yesterday that he did not believe the strike of the seamen in France would interfere with the sailing of the steamers

"All I knew of the strike of the seamen i what I see in the papers," he said. "As far as I know now La Provence and La Gascogne will leave Havre according to schedule. I should receive a cablegram if it were otherwise, but have received none."

The executive committee of the striking longshoremen will meet to-morrow forenoon and decide what action to take in the present stage of the strike.

car, the Pullman car porter acting as brakeman and porter.

At the hearing which the Governor gave on the bill on Wednesday the trainmen who favored it admitted that so far as the New York Central road was concerned it was unnecessary to have the third brakeman on the trains, the block system and signal towermen serving the purpose of Zimmermann, 5 years old, both of 309 Union street, Union Hill, were seriously injured late yesterday afternoon on the Duer estate at Hauz Hurst Park, Weehawken, by tumbling fifteen feet from a ledge while running away from two big dogs which were chasing them.

The girl's skull was fractured, her elbow crushed and her face lacerated. The boy's crushed and her face lacerated. The boy's skull also was fractured and a sharp stick ploughed under the skin from a point near his right eye the entire height of his forehead. Both were taken to the North Hudson Hospital in Union Hill.

The children went to the estate with a party of small companions to pick flowers, and as they were working their way through the shrubbery they heard the barking of dogs. They became frightened and took to their heels, with the dogs after them. Bernadine and William, seemingly not noticing where they were going, ran out on a rock jutting over a gully and tumbled off, rolling down an incline.

Some of the flower pickers said they were sure somebody set the dogs on them. The fathers of the injured children believed their story and last night they looked for Weehawken's Recorder, intending to swear out warrants, but did not find the magistrate.

state Health Officers Find 25 Samples Composed of Low Grade or Very Poor Meat. ALBANY, May 31 .- The State Health De partment has just completed the chemical examination of 154 samples of so called roast, corned, dried and potted beef, potted and deviled ham, chicken and turkey and canned sausages. Some twenty-five of the samples were found to be preparations with low grade meat contents; and seven with very poor meat contents, but there was not necessarily anything in them that would be poisonous to the human system. One can of potted ham examined, however, was found to be a preparation from discussed meat. Judge Littlefield's Findings in Regard to American Bond Reserve Co. Merger KANSAS CITY, May 31 .- Judge Walter

Littlefield, special Master in Chancery appointed to take evidence, announced to-day that he is ready to make a report of his findings in the investigation into the merger of the American Bond Reserve merger of the American Bond Reserve Company.

"I find that the merging of the several companies was a fraudulent transaction," Judge Littlefield said, "and that the proceeds of the fund deposited with the State Treasurer of Missouri should be distributed prograta among the creditors of the several companies, no preference being given to creditors in this State."

The State Treasurer holds $1,042,540 of the defunct company's funds. The Mississippi Valley Trust Company of St. Louis is the receiver.

BITTER AGAINST FORAKER.

Brownsville Witness Says He Would Be l'arred and Feathered if He Visited Texas. St. Louis, May 31 .- "If Senator J. B. oraker ever visited Brownsville he would be tarred and feathered," said L. B. Cowan; member of a party of citizens of that Texas town as they left here at noon to-day for Washington to testify before the Senate committee on the Brownsville raid. "It was outrageous for Foraker to try to make out that we would shoot into our own houses and kill our own citizens," continued Cowan. An incident showing the feeling in Texas was told to-day by K. M. Wishart of the was told to-day by K. M. Wishart of the Gulf Coast Land and Investment Company of St. Louis, who was with the party all the way from Texas.

"The party of witnesses got on at Sealy at midnight Wednesday," said Wishart.

"The negro porter knew the party was from Brownsville, and when the conductor told him to make up the berths he refused. A big Texan, who was not a member of the party, jumped up from his seatin the smoker by me, and, going up to the negro with a gun in his hand, remarked: 'Don't you think you bad better make up those berths?' The porter thought he had. 'I would have blown that coon's head off if he had refused,' said the Texan, and, what's more, he meant it." King Pharaoh, the horse that does almost everything but talk, is the star attraction everything but talk, is the star attraction of the park, and "Robinson Crusoe" bids fair to entertain those who like a picturesque spectacle and the novelty of moving scenery. Two performances a day will be given in the open air circus ring, which is free to visitors, and on Mondays. Tuesdays and Fridays there will be free displays of fireworks.
